All Performance. No Compromise.

The 70 Series is the new family of next-generation, ultra-rugged mobile computers purpose-built for their environments. Four breakthrough products built on the same powerful platform that was engineered to give users everything they need—including indestructible keypads, unbeatable battery life and onboard device health monitoring—with no trade-off in size, ruggedness or functionality.

Juggling multiple devices, vendors and service contracts can distract from your goals of operational efficiency and profitability. With its single platform approach, the 70 Series is unique in delivering the benefits that come with one architecture, one software build, one set of peripherals and one charging system. It brings simplicity to the frequent tasks of software updates, training new employees, managing spares pools and charging devices.
