Mobile computing has evolved with the Intermec CS40 – rugged, powerful and unlike anything you've seen before. In a package with the size and sleek versatility of a smartphone, you get a tough, dependable device that allows you to:

- Scan 1D and 2D bar codes at amazing speed, thanks to an integrated imager that outperforms typical smartphone cameras for scanning tasks
- Withstand the rigors of your business--rugged construction, 1.2 meter multiple drop spec to concrete, and IP54 sealing against rain and dust
- Choose between QWERTY and numeric keypad options, best suited for your specific business processes
- Rapidly deploy, easily configure, and ship directly to your end users with Intermec SmartSystems and ScanNGo software

Best of all, you'll enjoy a total cost of ownership that's up to four times better than a smartphone.
